Mr. James Allen, of Chenault, was in the city last Saturday. Mr. Allen is thinking of starting a school of education in this city. He is one of the finest educated young men in the county, and the school would, no doubt, be prosperous.
Mr. John Allen, who has been section foreman on the Breckenridge road for a couple of years, resigned his place last week to take that of foreman at the clay pit at the Patton brick works. He has moved his residence to Eastland, that he may be near his work.
In Squire Hambleton's court, last Saturday, R. C. Mattingly, of Balltown, was fined $5 for committing a breach of the peace several days ago, by stopping Squire Joe Mullin on the public highway and using angry, boisterous language toward him. The trial was very amusing, as Mr. Mattingly spread himself considerably while on the witness stand. The proof went to show that the offense was slight, but the court thought it sufficient to justify him in assessing the minimum fine in such cases. All of Balltown were present as witnesses and they all claimed their attendance, making the entire cost to Mr. Mattingly $20.30.

Joe B. Cox, the accommodating Hardinsburg postmaster, and Thomas Jefferson Hook, the clever Hardinsburg miller, who are spending a few days recreating at the Tar Springs, were in the city yesterday after the late papers and other refreshments.
Mr. D. C. Herndon has ordered his paper changed from Boston, Mass., to Lakota, N. Dakota. While going out he stopped in Chicago a few days to visit his cousin, Lizzie Mansford Pacey, and together they sent compliments to the News.
Mr. P. R. Johnson and family passed through the city Monday en route to their home in Philpot. They have been on an extended visit to friends and relatives at West View. He also paid the News office a visit and renewed his subscription for another year.
Rev. S. G. Shelly, pastor of the M. E. church, left last week to be with his wife who is visiting her parents near Big Spring. Rev. Shelly has been in very poor health for some time. He thought the change of a few days would be for the better. They returned home Wednesday.
Mr. S. B. Shannon was a passenger on the west-bound train Sunday. Mr. Shannon is still with Hetterman Bros. representing them in a wholesale trade. He received a telegram Sunday in Louisville to come at once to Cannelton, as his mother was very low with consumption. She is in her 67th year.

PICKED UP.

The picnic given in Minor's Grove last Saturday, for the benefit of Holt Chapel, was a decided success in every feature. It was a large and representative crowd, orderly and civil, and the day was spent pleasantly by all present, notwithstanding the heat. The only disappointment was that Gen. Harlin, who was expected to be present and speak failed to put in an appearance. There were many who came from a long distance to hear the great orator and statesman and the next Governor of Kentucky. The proceeds realized from the dinner and stands netted about $75. The most pleasing feature, and one that is rarely witnessed in this day of strong prejudices and petty bickerings among churches, was that both protestants and Catholics joined hands and contributed their means and worked hard to make the affair a success.

After the picnic a gay party of young ladies and gentlemen met at the hospitable home of Mr. Julius Dutschke and were entertained at tea. In the absence of their parents, Messrs. Fred and August and Miss Mary Dutschke were masters of ceremonies. A very enjoyable evening was spent. Those present were Mrs. Henry and Miss Emma Halderman, of Louisville; Misses Jennie, Mollie and Maggie Stallman and Messrs. Dick and Edward Stallman, of Moolyville; Miss Ida Dutschke, Carlton and Chas. Dutschke, Union Star; Miss Clara Frank, Owensboro; Miss Annie Dutschke Moolyville; Misses Nora and Eunice Manning, Moolyville; Misses Amanda and Brook Tinus, and Emma Riedel, Holt; Miss Ray Dyer, Cloverport; Messrs. Owen Claycomb, Union Star; Emmet Elder and Sam Haden, Moolyville; Jas. and Willard Allen, Chenault; Chas. Reidel, Chas. and William Tinus and Dan Dick, Holt; Reuben Miller, Cloverport.

Henry Herndon, manager for I. G. Herndon & Co., Commission Merchants, Louisville, is visiting with his family at Irvington. He takes a great interest in the people of his native county. Says he can't help it and never loses an opportunity to favor them. "When goods come to our house from Breckenridge or Meade county it is just as natural for me to go out and make a special effort to get the best prices going as it is to go out and meet an old friend who drops in to see me."

The county candidates were out in full force at the picnic. They were all "loaded" with speeches, but were afraid of the "other fellows." Our friend, Reuben Miller, was "biling over" and had it in for Judge Board until he found the Judge was ready and then Reuben got out of the notion. Our opinion is that the weather was entirely too hot for both of them. When these two gentlemen do get at it you may look out for some mighty lively times.

Mr. Dan Burks, of Lakeland, Fla., is visiting his mother, Mrs. W. E. Minor, Holt. Dan is a fine looking, handsome young man and justly, the pride of his mother. He is in the railroad business in Florida and has a fine orange grove which he expects to bring him a fortune in a few years. He says there are no hard times in Florida. Plenty of work there for everybody at good prices.

Messrs. Mike Lyddan, Webster; John Wimp, Jno. Nevitt, Fred McGehee and Bate Washington, Irvington, and Henry Herndon, Louisville, were at the picnic at Holt Saturday. They came down to hear Gen. Harlin and were very much disappointed when it was learned that he would not be present. Gen. Harlin has a host of friends in this county.

The News' advice to the county candidates is that they make their canvass on high-toned, honorable principles. Stand for their party and its principles and their own qualifications and fitness for the office to which they aspire. People are not interested in your personal affairs and don't care to hear such nonsense. Be men.

Bate Washington.—We haven't had a rain in our section for nine weeks. Not only the crops are suffering, but stock-water is getting scarce and many farmers have to haul their water for miles. This is the third year for a drought in our neighborhood, and our people are beginning to feel the effects or it very seriously.

A drummer said to the News, "My house received an order from a firm in your town on the 6th. We shipped the goods on the same evening and they were in the house on the 7th—on the 8th we received a check for our money."

Morgan Fountain and family were at the picnic and remained over Sunday visiting his father-in-law, Mr. Virge Hardin and family.

Mrs. Caldwell Norton, of Louisville, is visiting her old home and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. G. Stephens, Addison.

Miss Susie White, of Louisville, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Emma White, at Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hardin's, Holt.

Mr. Geo. Wolf, of Louisville, has been the guest of Mrs. Hattie Smith, Holt, for several weeks.

Miss Clara Frank, of Owensboro, is visiting Misses Amanda and Brook Tinus, Holt.

Antney Over.

The Cloverport ball team went to Cannelton last Sunday and got the only good looking that they have received this year. The Cloverport boys started out well, but they were unable to do anything after the first inning. The score by innings is as follows.

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9

Struck out Cannelton, 4; Cloverport, 4.

Bob Pierce met with considerable loss yesterday. One of his teams was pulling a load of coal up the hill on Elm street when one of the fine horses which was drawing the wagon, dropped dead. The cause of death is thought to be over-exercised by heat. The animal stopped and moved two and fro a few times then he fell over and breathed his last. The loss to Mr. Pierce is about $150.

Mr. James E. Mattingly is dangerously sick, and he is not likely to recover from his present prostration.
