A NIGHT OF TERROR.

I, as an unusual thing, was lying awake and it was about half-past three Sunday morning when I heard some one jump over the fence that runs between our house and the coffin shop.

Schools—The Way to Have a Good One.

If the people want a good school this fall, we will give them a few simple recipes which never fail.

The first thing necessary to a good school is a first class row in the district in regard to the teacher. The more favorable the better, as they will create an interest. Of course it is understood that the Trustees are mere figureheads, and that it is the business of all the people to employ the teacher.

After the teacher has been employed, and before he begins his school, it is well enough to discuss him all over the district, especially in the presence of the pupils; it will increase their respect for him when he begins work.

When he comes into the district it is the bounden duty of Mrs. Smith to call on him and tell him how bad Mrs. Brown's children are, for otherwise he might not know it.

There is one thing that should be carefully watched and stopped if attempted. We refer to the introduction of new methods. They are every one humping, that should not be tolerated at all.

If a teacher reprimands a pupil the pupil should stop school promptly. It is well for the pupil's mother to go to the school house and give the teacher a piece of her mind.

There are many other things we could say on this subject, but we refrain. We have said enough. If the people will take our advice we guarantee that they will have a school.—Elizabethtown News.

Yost an Easy Winner.

The race for judge of the Court of Appeals in the district above this promises to be a red hot one between Judges W. H. Yost and Willis L. Reeves.

The Verdict Unanimous.

It pleases the lawyer and his client, too, to have the verdict of the jury unanimous. A great jury composed of the American public has rendered a unanimous verdict on Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure.

Marion Weatherholt was the guest of Miss Minnie Boultinghouse, of Addison, Sunday. Miss Carrie Unsor, of Owensboro, was the guest of Miss Mary Weatherholt Thursday.

Farmers say they will make half a crop of corn and tobacco if reasonable from now on. Mr. Jerry Basham, of Ledburg, was the guest of Miss Rosa Miller Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tate, of German Ridge, Ind., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weatherholt. Mr. Reuben Reynolds visited his daughter, Mrs. Jeff Hawkins, at Tobinsport, two days last week.

Miss Nannie Adams will leave to day for Moweaqua, Ills., for a three week visit among relatives and friends. Misses Flora and Luia DeJernette, of Jolly Station, and Miss Julia Ball, of Hardinsburg, are the guests of Miss Rena Timus.

Your correspondent is just in receipt of a fine sample of grape wine presented by Mr. Charles Timus, our clever and accommodating vineyard man. This alone will account for the scarcity of items this week.
